BUCKLE CLUE IN PARK DEATH MYSTERY

Safe Robbed of $3,000 in Busy Lynn Plant

50 EMPLOYES NEARBY AS LOOTERS USE A SLEDGEHAMMER

While more than fifty drivers and other employes were busy about the plant, the big safe of H. P. Hood & Sons in Alley street, Lynn, was looted early today of $3,000.

In the din and clamor raised by the loaders and drivers, the robbers were able to use a sledge hammer and chisels without detection. without detection.

The robbery was discovered by Frank Horlacher, an employe, of No. 3 Locust place, Lynn.

Inspector Remsen, Sergeant Duggan and a detail of police are endeavoring to pick up the trail of the robbers.

LADD, PROGRESSIVE SENATOR, IS DEAD

Baltimore, June 22 (A.P.).—Senator Edwin Fremont Ladd (Progressive follower of Senator La Follette) of North Dakota, died here at 10:20 a. m. today.

The Senator was conscious and in full command of his faculties as late as last night.

The Senator went to the hospital about ten days ago for neuritis and rheumatism and the kidney trouble developed.

Mrs. Ladd arrived from Washington an hour before the end came and was at the bedside with Milton, one of the sons, who is studying law in George Washington University, and his daughter Virginia, who attends high school in Washington.

Senator Ladd, while apparently realizing the end was near, aroused to greet them when they entered his room. The end came soon after their arrival.

WHITE COURT MARINES TO CARRY AUTOMATICS

With equipment and camp in spotless condition, the forty-two Marines in Swampscott were completing preparations today to begin their tour of duty guarding White Court, the Summer White House.

Promptly at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning the first detail will go on guard around the spacious grounds of White Court, although the first formal guard mount will not take place until Thursday.

Contrary to general belief the "Devil Dogs" will not carry rifles, the regulation arm of the Marine Corps on home guard being pistols or revolvers. In this case the men will carry automatic pistols.

MORE MARINES COMING.

Captain William P. T. Hill, in charge of camp construction, has completed the work of laying out the camp at Deer Cove, and will leave for Washington tomorrow. Lieutenant Edgar Allan Poe, Jr., will command the marine guard, which will be augmented by more men when the Mayflower arrives tomorrow.

Immediately on the arrival of the presidential yacht the marines will

LA FOLLETTE IS BURIED WHERE BORN, NEAR LAKE

Madison, Wis., June 22 (A.P.).—Services of extreme simplicity attend the burial today of Senator Robert Marion La Follette.

Although from the moment his funeral train arrived here last Saturday from Washington the State claimed his body for its own, there was nothing of pomp or of ceremony in these, the last honors that it might tender. That was as the Senator himself had wished.

To friends of a lifetime was given the sad task of conveying the body to sanctuary in his native soil at a point overlook a broad blue lake, beside which he was born and came to man's estate.

Many others with whom he had labored so long in the State and nation were gathered from far and near to do homage at his bier.

The expansive rotunda of the massive State Capitol, where yesterday his body lay in state was the place

CHIEF CLUES IN FRANKLIN PARK MYSTERY

From a number of small items of evidence in the death of a well-dressed young man in Franklin Park, the police pin much omportance to a belt buckle, emblematic of the Fraternal Order of Eagles. This may lead to identification. Picture of Quarry Pool shows where the body was found, with a bullet hole through the temples. Also are shown the necktie and a piece of paper with two notations, one the Latin for sleeping hickness, the other a memo of an address in Adams square.

MORE ELECTRICAL STORMS DUE IN HUB

More thunderstorms are predicted for Boston. They are due late tonight or Tuesday. The skies will begin to cloud up late today.

Meteorologists are at a loss to explain the unusual prevalence of thunderstorms in this vicinity of late, especially as they appear on cool days and not at the end of a heated term, when they are most likely to occur.

EAGLE EMBLEM MAY LEAD TO IDENTITY OF MAN FOUND IN PARK

A metal buckle on a leather belt may be the clue that will lead to the identification of the sprucely dressed and carefully groomed young man whose body was found in Quarry Pool, Franklin Park, with a bullet hole through the head.

On the belt is the raised figure of an eagle, wings outstretched. It is, according to police officials, the official emblem of the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

The Eagles are strong in Greater Boston, and particularly in Revere. It is hoped some of the lodges will be able to help the authorities trace the identity of the victim of the mysterious tragedy.

The man was shot in the left temple according to Medical Examiner William Brickley.

If the suicide theory is correct, that may be taken to mean that he was left handed. If he was murdered, as some investigators think, it means nothing.

WILL NOT DRAG THE POOL.

The weapon with which he was shot is missing. The pool will not be searched for it. Police Captain Bradley C. Mason said this afternoon, adding that the water was too dangerous, the bottom being filled with cold springs and covered with debris.

Very like the strange death of Alexander Buchanan in Waverley, as it is, the police are in the main convinced that the unidentified victim of whaever tragedy there was committed suicide.

They think he stood on the brink of the pool, sent a bullet into his brain, and toppled over, revolver and all.

CLERK REMEMBERS MAN.

Next to the buckle clue, the police were most interested today in a pair of shoes worn by the dead man. The mark showed they were bought from

BURNING SHIP SAVED BY FIREBOAT AT SEA

Providence, June 22.—The Providence fire boat, assisted by Hose Company 15 of Providence, extinguished a fire in the forward hold of the Merchants' and Miners' freighter Quantico, which threatened

The Quantico, a 3,000-ton freighter, was bound from Norfolk to Providence with a general cargo from Norfolk, Va.

While off Block Island Lightship early today fire was discovered in the forward hold. The crew was mustered and battled the flames, but despite their efforts the fire continued to gain headway.

Radio calls were flashed from the burning freighter. The captain reported the ship in danger and asked that a coast guard cutter be sent to her aid. There was none available, however.

Speeding along under full steam in an effort to reach port, or, failing that, to reach a spot where the ship could be beached, the burning freighter battled her way.

Constant radio calls for help were received here and the fireboat was dispatched to meet the burning craft as she entered the harbor.

At the same time Hose Company No. 15 was ordered to the pier where the ship was to dock and the firemen prepared to board the craft with pipe lines.

The streams from the fire boats checked the flames and the ship was docked. Firemen from Hose Company 15 poured streams of water into the burning hatches and in a short time the fire was under control.

The loss to the ship and cargo has not been estimated.

Several firemen of the city's force were overcome by smoke while moving freight so they could get down into the lower hold.

BABE RUTH TO SELL HIS SUDBURY FARM

Babe Ruth, rising young ball player and sometimes manufacturer of the famous Ruthian four-ply blow, will be "the gentleman farmer of Sudbury" for but a short time longer.

Beginning next Winter, the battering Babe will spend his Winters and some cash in the balmy breezes of Florida.

The farm of Babe Ruth in Sudbury, purchased four years ago from S. D. Perry, is up for sale, and the Babe will take a few days off from day labor with the New York Yankees to be in on the sale.

In New York today Ruth explained that the recent illness of himself and Mrs. Ruth had a lot to do with his decision to sell.

"Farming is all right for a retired business man," he said, "but for an active baseball player, it's not so good. I'm through farming in Sudbury. The place there cost me a pretty penny. When you are not around to supervise, you lose more money."

Right there the Babe brought back memories of the early Springtime, when, before his illness, stories came out of the Southland training camp

TRUCK KILLS WOMAN HURRYING FOR TROLLEY

While hurrying to catch a trolley car on Lebanon street, Malden, today, Mrs. Fannie White, 65, of No. 7 Webber street, that city, stepped in front of a truck which knocked her down and inflicted injuries from which she died at Malden Hospital.

The truck was operated by Edward O'Connor of No. 46 Gale street, Malden, who was held in $1,000 on a charge of manslaughter for a hearing July 22.

Mrs. White suffered a fractured skull, two broken legs and other injuries, and died soon after her arrival at the hospital.

Miss Ita Jarvis, 60, of No. 33 Egremont street, Brighton, is on the danger list at St. Elizabeth's Hospital as a result of injuries received when struck by a trolley car on Commonwealth avenue, Brighton, today.

FRANKLIN PARK SHOOTING VICTIM MAY BE MEMBER OF EAGLES

POLICE BELIEVE MAN STOOD ON HIGH ROCK, FIRED REVOLVER AND FELL INTO POND

Arthur Wallace of No. 332 Washington street.

Ben Crosby, clerk, remembered today selling the shoes and said the man in all essentials answered the description of the unknown victim of the Franklin Park tragedy.

The purchaser, said Mr. Crosby, told him he had been out of work some time and was getting "fixed up," so he would be presentable and able to apply for the kind of a job he wanted.

An additional clue under investigation is a bit of paper found in the dead man's pocket. On one side, it read, "Endephalics Lethargica," which is the Latin name for the sleeping sickness. On the other, "Rice Tester, Bryant, Adams square."

MAN LOOKING FOR WORK.

Inquiry disclosed that there is no supply store run by a Bryant in Adams square.

But in Dock square, No. 24, a Boston Evening American reporter discovered that a few days ago, maybe a day or two before the death, a man of the exact description applied at the Kennedy & Co. store for a job.

O. H. Comstock, the manager, could not give him work, but sent him to the company employment bureau at No. 91 Commercial street.

That day or the next the man called at the employment bureau. He did not get work. He looked like the man drawn out of Quarry Pool, but he was dressed differently and was bareheaded.

Schoolboys playing golf on the course which skirts the quarry found the body floating in the water close to the edge of a cliff which towers about thirty-five feet above the pool. The clothing on the body was well tailored, the teeth gave every indication of extreme care and the finger nails had been recently manicured.

The clothes lacked the name of the manufacturer or the workmen's labels. The shirt, underclothes and two clean handkerchiefs bore no laundry marks.

The official description of the victim listed him as being from twenty-five to thirty years old, 5 feet 10 inches tall, 155 pounds in weight, with long black hair, smooth face, brown eyes.

The body was clad in a brown worsted suit, black oxford shoes, dark brown silk socks, B. V. D. underclothes, a white broadcloth shirt with collar attached and a four-in-hand tie. The tie was of dark gray silk and wool, figured with small red triangles. Across the tie at regular spaces were woven four black lines.

TWO BOYS AWARDED SCHOLARSHIPS AT B. C.

William J. Silney, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Silney of No. 166 Holmes road, Readville, and James Lavange, son of Mrs. Margaret Lavange of No. 3 Pine terrace, Hyde Park, have won two of the four scholarships for Boston College awarded to preparatory school boys in the archdiocese of Boston.

Both boys are thirteen years old. Silney being a graduate of St. Anne's School and Lavange of St. Raphael's School. They competed in the examinations for the scholarship with 400 boys.

These three little maids begged hard to be permitted to enter the Coolidge Summer home, "White Court," at Swampscott, even if only to get a peek inside the reception hall. "Nope," said the stern faced soldier boy who, on Uncle Sam's pay roll, signs himself Clarence Key. country that Ruth was broke.

These stories followed a reported admission from the Babe that he could not pay $7,700 in wrong-way racing bets incurred in the Summer of 1924, for the good and simple reason that the Ruthian cash was not available.

Ruth took turns denying and affirming the story of his financial embarrassment, and then went into the hospital and the stories were more or less forgotten.

AFFECTED BY ILLNESS.

"I like Florida," Ruth said today. "The recent illnesses of Mrs. Ruth and myself are in a measure responsible for my decision to make the change."

The generalissimo of the bludgeon, who is expected to come to Boston today, displayed ankles that are badly puffed, the result, he said, of strain following the long illness that kept him on his back during the forepart of the baseball season. His underpinning has been a handicap to him since his return.

Ruth stated that his most favored place of habitation on the sun-kissed Florida terrain is St. Petersburg.

INSANITARY, CHEATING MEAT DEALERS FLAYED

Washington, June 22 (A.P.).—The need of better sanitary practices in the meat industry and the elimination of misleading advertising were urged by the Department of Agriculture today in a report covering the study of conditions in a score of cities.

Cities named "where sanitary methods were lacking" were New Orleans, Birmingham, Oklahoma City, Baltimore, Washington, Chicago and Detroit.

"In every large city a percentage of retail meat dealers take advantage of consumers' lack of knowledge of quality in meats to practice every conceivable means of deceiving the public, such dealers are known locally as 'clean-up men,'" the report said.

"Short weighing and over-charging are common practices with unscrupulous dealers, many of them requiring clerks to make their clerks to make their weekly wage by such methods."

OFFERS $5,000 REWARD FOR NEWS OF MISSING SON

Pittsburgh, June 22.—Reward of $5,000 has been offered by Frank Harwood, American Tobacco Co. executive, for recovery of his son, Warren, 15, who disappeared from New York City nine days ago, with Webster Cosse, 14, son of Charles A. Cosse, Mt. Vernon, N. Y., civil service commissioner.

What Coolidge's Pastor Thinks of President

New York, June 22.—Rev. Jason Noble Pierce, President Coolidge's pastor in Washington, is an evolutionist, in two services at the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church here he made more than passing reference to evolution and expanded on the subject later.

Dr. Pierce praised the President as a man of absolute sincerity and genuine integrity, whom no consideration could swerve from what his conscience told him to be right. He and the President rarely misses church and is much the same consistent Christian and churchgoer that he was as city solicitor of Northampton.

GIRL'S DEATH LEAP AT SEA IS MYSTERY

Plymouth, England, June 22 (I.N.S.).—The drowning at sea last Tuesday of Miss Elizabeth Mary Cromwell of New York city, a passenger on the steamship Veendham from New York, was not explained today when the ship arrived.

A number of passengers said they saw Miss Cromwell standing by the ship's rail. Some said she appeared ill. Many persons heard her body strike the water, but no one saw her fall. Mrs. Stocks Miller, Miss Cromwell's cousin, with whom she was traveling, had no explanation.

It is understood Miss Cromwell complained of being depressed and that the ship's surgeon gave her a bromide. She was to have seen the physician again Tuesday, but the tragedy occurred before her appointment.

Life preservers were thrown out, a liftboat lowered and a search for the body continued ninety minutes, but it was not found.

YALE GETS FUND FOR WORK ON TUBERCULOSIS CURE

New Haven, Ct., June 22 (A.P.).—The task of working on a cure for tuberculosis at Yale is not to stop, it became known when Yale University announced that the National Tuberculosis Association had made this possible by continuing a grant to Yale for the work of Professor Treat B. Johnson in connection with the chemistry of the tubercle bacillus. The association also has made a grant to Yale for research to be undertaken by Professor George A. Baitsell in the field of biology under the direction of Professor Ross G. Harrison during the year 1925-26.

Hymn—"Nearer My God to Thee," Mozart and Mannechoir chorus.

Funeral Sermon—Dr. A. E. Haydon of Chicago.

Hymn—"Abide With Me," Mozart and Mannechoir chorus.

"America," with the chorus leading the audience.

Thousands had journeyed to Madison for the funeral. Many of these came to join the throngs that viewed the body yesterday, while others reached here by trains from Chicago and other nearby points some hours before the services at 1 p. m.

Throughout the hours that the body lay in state a steady stream of people passed in reverent silence. Even before the doors of the State House were opened at noon long lines had formed at Capitol square and when they were closed again at twilight some still were waiting.

No monarch, passing to his grave, ever had a more sincere and touching tribute paid to his memory than that which the people of Wisconsin accorded their deceased senior Senator today.

Resting at the head of the casket was an immense basket of lilies and roses, the tribute of the Chicago Teachers' Federation, while at the foot of the bier rested a large wreath sent by President Calles of Mexico.

Two members of the Legislature watch over the casket while a single sentinel in uniform stands guard in the rotunda of the Capitol.

The coffin itself, draped with an American flag, is a casket is of extremely plain design and bears no decorations of any kind.

Almost at dawn the throngs started pouring into the Capitol, and as the hour for the funeral approached the throng became so dense that police reserves were called to make a passageway for the officials of State and others.

Besides the thousands who passed through the Capitol, unnumbered others visited the spot in Forest Hill Cemetery, where interment will be made.

WHITE COURT NEWSIE PROUD OF HIS JOB

The proudest youth in Essex County if not in the State, is fifteen-year-old James G. Soutter, Jr., of Swampscott. On Jimmy will fall the honor of delivering daily and Sunday newspapers and magazines to White Court while President Coolidge and Mrs. Coolidge are there.

Jimmy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Soutter who live at Aspen and Millett roads Swampscott, from "which they overlook White Court.

undergo their first inspection by Captain Andrews of the Mayflower.

At the same time, Jerry Shea, caretaker for F. E. Smith, owner of White Court, expects to welcome the White House servants, who also are due to arrive tomorrow.

Today the Marines established a guard house in the garage on the estate for the twelve or fifteen men who will walk post daily. They also manicured the lawn around the camp, their efforts being somewhat handicapped by a swarm of eager boys, curious to obtain first-hand information of the doings of the famous corps.

Under the direction of "Top" Sergeant James R. Brown, a veteran of the tropics, the work was pushed rapidly forward, however, in order that everything may be in first-class shape for tomorrow's inspection.

TO HAVE REAL YORK.

Although some persons may think otherwise, the tour of duty of the Marines for the next hree months will be no sinecure.

Their day will begin at 6:48 with first call, followed by reveille at 7 o'clock. At 7:10 assembly for roll call will be sounded. Immediately after roll call will come swimming call, when for half an hour all men not on guard or otherwise engaged will be enabled to take a dip in the surf.

The call for colors will be sounded at 8 o'clock, and mess call at 8:05, with police call, the bane of all soldiers, at 8:30. Police work means a general cleaning and tidying up, and in the Marine Corps tidiness means tidiness.

This will last for one hour, with recall and sick call at 9:30, and at 9:45 first call for drill, as even Presidential guards must be kept busy in the opinion of the powers that be. Also there will be a daily inspection at 10 o'clock, followed by drill lasting for one hour.

After drill, at 11:15 is to come "office hours," or "before the mast," in the vernacular of the enlisted man, when those who have overstayed their liberty or been guilty of other violations appear for a hearing before the commanding officer.

Millions to Hear Coolidge Tonight

Washington, June 22.—With a record of having cut expenditures more than two billion dollars since 1921, the Administration will make preparations tonight to once more go to bat with the high cost of government.

President Coolidge, with probably 20,000,000 persons within earshot due to a radio hook-up, will make a plea for extreme cutting during the two years beginning July 1. He will address the semi-annual meeting of the government's business organization, consisting of department chiefs.

Then he will finish preparations for starting tomorrow for the Summer White House at Swampscott.

A three-billion-dollar a year government, exclusive of postal operating costs, has been the objective of the Administration since the budget system went into effect during the term of President Harding.

RECEIPTS TOP ESTIMATE.

The government will come close to this mark in the year ending June 30, expenses to date totalling $3,445,000,000. For the new year it is hoped to come a step closer to the objective.

The economy program, aimed specifically at tax reduction, was stimulated today by information from the Treasury that the excess of receipts over expenditures has already passed the $170,000,000 mark. This surplus will be increased considerably in the remaining seven collection days of the year.

The heavy surplus, first estimated at but $67,000,000, has resulted from unexpected collections under the 1924 Revenue Act. The collections are within a few million dollars of the estimated $2,660,000,000, with heavy receipts anticipated before June 30.

Receipts from all sources for the year ending June 30 will be approximately $3,675,000,000, officials said.

Virtually all owners of radio sets east of the Rocky Mountains will be within hearing of the President and Budget Director H. M. Lord when they talk tonight. Among stations which will broadcast the messages are WEAF, New York; WJAR, Providence, and WEEI, Boston.

JUDGE FLAYS DOROTHY PERKINS

Mrs. Kresge Sues '5-and-10 King' for $7,000,000

PERKINS GIRL GETS 5 YEARS

New York, June 22.—From five to fifteen years' confinement in Auburn Prison was the sentence imposed today upon Dorothy Perkins, who killed Thomas Templeton, war veteran, who had been her suitor.

"I do not wish to add any anguish to that which you are already suffering," Judge McIntyre told Dorothy. But you have lead a very bad life for a young woman. You took human life. You cannot give it back."

Reviewing the evidence in the trial the Judge pointed out that Dorothy, when asked what she was going to do with the pistol which she carried in her handbag had said: "I'm a yellow-haired bandit."

"When a woman is bad she is as bad as a mortal being can be," the court continued.

"Crime is all too prevalent among the young. There have been too many killings of men by women and too many weaklings in jury boxes."

Dorothy, dressed in a blue serge suit with a white lace collar, accepted the sentence calmly, almost cheerfully.

She stood, with hands folded, for twenty minutes as the judge announced the sentence and gave her good advice.

Had the judge imposed the maximum sentence she would have had to serve 20 years in prison.

When the judge finished talking she bowed slightly in acknowledgment of his remarks and turned and walked rather jauntily into the corridor where detectives awaited her to take her to the tombs.

RAID FINDS LOST GUN; WIDOW TO GET VALUE

By a strange twist of fate Mrs. Arthur Donovan, widow of a Boston policeman, will receive $18 from the property clerk at headquarters today as a result of a raid conducted by the liquor squad.

The raiders recovered a revolver lost by Donovan two years ago in North station, for which he was forced to pay $18. It was found in the possession of John Sidofsky of No. 9 Cooper street, whose home was the scene of the raid. No liquor was found, but one of the officers in searching Sidofsky discovered the revolver.

PAIR OF DRUG-SELLING SUSPECTS HELD FOR TRIAL

Michael Graziadei of No. 22 Etla street, Dorchester, and Rocco Ciccolo of No. 236 Harrison avenue, arrested after a two mile chase in the South End, were arraigned in Federal Court today on charges of selling narcotics. They pleaded not guilty and were held in $7,500 each.

Agents Nastaci and Miller testified that they purchased opium and cocaine from the men, and then arrested them. Seven ounces of morphine and two ounces of cocaine were taken from them, they said.

SECTION BOSS FALLS FROM HANDCAR, KILLED

Biddeford, Me., June 22.—Through falling from a railroad handcar today, James Lawler, section foreman for the Boston & Maine Railroad, was killed. With a fellow member of his crew, George Huff, he was riding on the car, pushed by a motor car. Both were thrown under the wheels. Lawler died from a fractured skull. Huff's legs were broken.

HIGH SCHOOLS TO GRADUATE 4,000 PUPILS

Boston's high schools will graduate the greatest number of pupils this week in the history of the city. More than 4,000 high school children will receive their diplomas and many new high standards have been set this year by the graduates.

The graduation exercises will be Friday in all of the high schools except the Girls' High School, which will have its graduation exercises at Tremont Temple, Wednesday night, and the English High School, which will have its graduation exercises, Thursday night, at Tremont Temple.

The English High School, with a graduating class of 857, breaks a record in being the largest class ever graduated from any high school in New England. Graduating with the class is Joseph F. Toohey, twenty-eight years old, who left his job in North Adams four years ago to get an education. He will be graduated with honors and will continue his studies in college.

LARGEST CLASS.

The Girls' Latin School, with a graduating class of 131, issues diplomas this year to the largest class by one-third of any ever graduated in the history of the school. One of its honor pupils, Miss Grace I. Dellco of Roslindale, adds distinction to the senior class by passing her entrance examinations to Bryn Mawr College with the highest average of any girl from New England.

Virginia M. Dente of the East Boston High School is the valedictorian of her class of 190. This year for the first time, the High School Centre has announced a scholarship of $100 to be presented to the girl being graduated with highest honors who intends to go to college.

A feature of the graduation exercises of the Public Latin School, will be the presentation to the school of the shield awarded by Dartmouth College to the school with the largest number of honor students in the freshman class. Henry I. Parks of Roslindale, president of the senior class and winner of highest honors at the junior training camp at Camp Devens last Summer, is one of the honor students. Parks will enter Harvard in the Fall.

HONOR STUDENT.

In the graduating class of the Roxbury High School, among 329 pupils to be graduated, Miss Isabel Shlager of Roxbury, is the honor pupil, never having received anything but "A" in her marks during the entire year. She has been selected to present to the school the class gift, in recognition of her unusual record.

In the Teachers' College, for the first time, the graduating pupils will receive degrees instead of diplomas. Out of a class of 171, more than forty will receive degrees of Doctor of Education. The balance will receive diplomas.

Turkish Women Make Harems Too Costly

New York, June 22.—The harems of Turkey are virtually extinct, not because of moral or religious reasons, but because they are too expensive to maintain, W. W. Peep, treasurer of the Constantinople branch of the Red Cross, declared today on his arrival here for a vacation.

Polygamy has become economically unpopular, he said, because the Turkish women have acquired the same extravagant and somewhat luxurious tastes exhibited by their western sisters.

M'MILLAN IS WELL ON WAY TO ARCTIC

Monhegan Island, Me., June 22 (A.P.).—The schooner Bowdoin, which left here yesterday noon with Lieutenant Commander Donald B. MacMillan and other members of his Arctic expedition, was well up the coast of Maine today. With fair weather, friends of the explorer here believed she would be off the Bay of Fundy by nightfall.

The Bowdoin is due to reach Sydney, N. S., on Thursday, her first stop after leaving here. There she will be joined by the steamer Peary, which went ahead after receiving fresh water at Bootlbay Harbor, without stopping here.

Fuel will be taken on at Sydney, after which the two vessels will proceed to Battle Harbor, Labrador, always a port of call for the explorer before he proceeds to Etah, Greenland.

BRECKENRIDGES SOON TO DIVORCE IN PARIS

Paris, June 22 (Universal).—Society gossip asserts that the Henry Breckenridges will soon receive their Paris divorce decree, while another report gaining headway is the rumored engagement of the Comte De Maupas, former husband of Thelma Morgan, to the Princess Fanny Bey, who created a sensation two years ago, when she killed her husband in a London hotel.

Meanwhile society expects a notable marriage in the next few months, naming as the principals Frederick Havemeyer and Leona Morgan Stahl.

BIG RUM SEIZURE IN FOG

Bangor, Me., June 22.—The French two-masted schooner Cherie, Captain Harry Ducos of Bordeaux, with 3000 cases of liquor valued at $275,000, was seized by Federal prohibition agents off Swan's Island.

Captain Ducos and the members of the crew, said to be Canadians, were arrested and were to be arraigned today before a Federal commissioner here, charged with conspiracy to smuggle liquor.

According to Seth May, head of the Federal prohibition forces in this state, papers were seized which implicate many prominent residents of Maine, and may lead to other seizures in New England.

Prohibition officers and two coast guardsmen in the small launch Cathcrine crept up to the schooner in a dense fog and boarded her for surprise. No resistance was offered by the crew.

It is understood the schooner sailed from Bordeaux and a lift was received by the Federal officers that her cargo would be landed in this vicinity.

SIGNED OFF DOWER RIGHTS

New York, June 22 (A.P.)—A suit in equity for 17,500 shares of S. S. Kresge stock, valued at $7,000,000, was filed in Supreme Court today by counsel for Mrs. Doris Mercer Kresge, second wife of Sebastian S. Kresge, owner of a chain of 5 and 10-cent stores.

Mrs. Kresge's petition states that the shares were promised her when she married Kresge in April, 1924, in lieu of her dower rights, which she agreed to surrender, and that the chain store magnate reluctantly has refused to carry through his premarital agreement with regard to the stock.

Joseph S. Klein, Mrs. Kresge's counsel, announced that the suit was but the forerunner of action for legal separation to be instituted by her soon. He stated today that Kresge moved from his Park avenue home with his belongings a short time ago, and that the Kresges are now living apart.

Kresge is an attendant at the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church. He built the First Methodist Church of Detroit and a short time ago gave $750,000 to Albion College, Michigan.

Mrs. Kresge was Miss Doris Mercer, a member of a prominent Pittsburgh family.

The first Mrs. Kresge got a divorce from Kresge in 1924, charging cruelty, and received a settlement of $5,000,000. There are eleven children by the first marriage still living.

COUNSEL CLASH IN PHONE RATE HEARING

Corporation Counsel E. Mark Sullivan and Charles S. Pierce, general counsel for the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company, clashed today at a continued hearing on the petition of the company for a general increase of 25 per cent. in rates before the Public Utilities Commission.

Samuel H. Mildram, utility expert for the city, had attacked a statement by President Jones of the company on the increasing cost of plant additions. Mildram maintained that the price of copper had fallen considerably and that this should result in a lower, rather than a higher plant cost.

QUESTIONS COST.

Pierce termed Mildram's testimony "argumentative." When Mildram refused to heed his interruption, he appealed to the commissioners.

Sullivan declared Pierce was "obstructing rather than objecting." The commissioners ordered Mildram to proceed.

Mildram continued to introduce exhibits tending to show that the company had, during the last two or three years, over-invested in central office equipment.

"The company has built certain units away beyond the reasonable expectation of service," he charged.

MAY SUSPEND BOOST.

He declared the cost of poles as shown in the appraisal made by the company "is much higher than it should be" and professed surprise that the cost of aerial cable hadn't declined rather than increased. An early announcement of a further suspension of the date for the new rates to take effect is expected from the commissioners, July 1 had been set as the effective date, but in view of the monopoly hearings, it is indicated the rates will be suspended for another month.

DEKAY FACES COURT IN R. I. BANK WRECKING

Providence, June 22 (A.P.)—John Wesley DeKay, banker, sportsman, playwright and writer, who had evaded arraignment before the U. S. District Court here twelve years, was here today to appear before Federal Judge Arthur L. Brown on an indictment growing out of the failure of the Atlantic National Bank of Providence. DeKay was indicted October 9, 1913, charged with aiding and abetting the misapplication of $260,000 of the bank's funds. His brother, Henry, was enrolled after serving twenty months of a five-year sentence. John DeKay, after a dozen years in European countries, was ordered extradited from England. He arrived in New York in custody of Department of Justice operatives.

EPISCOPALIANS FAVOR NEW DECALOGUE

Commandments to Be Shortened; "Obey" to Go From Marriage

New York, June 22.—The suggested shortening of the Ten Commandments to omit phrases regarded as supplementary or explanatory, made in the fourth report of the joint commission on prayer book in the Episcopal church, has been made public by the Rt. Rev. Charles Lewis Slattery, bishop coadjutor of Massachusetts, chairman of the commission.

The report also recommends that the word "obey" and the promise of the bridegroom to endow the bride shall be stricken from the marriage service.

The mandatory form for the Ten Commandments suggested by the commission would demand in the Third Commandment, "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain," but would omit or leave to the discretion of individual clergymen, the explanatory phrase, "the Lord will not hold him guiltless, who taketh his name in vain."

The report, which will be submitted to the 56th Triennial of the church at New Orleans October 7 to 22, also recommends the elimination from the Book of Common Prayer the instructional paragraphs withholding from unbaptized, excommunicated persons and suicides the rite of the burial service.

Other changes recommended by the commission include introduction of new prayers, substitution of modern phraseology for obsolete verbiage and the transportation of certain services in the Book of Common Prayer to provide continuity to the book.

Seniors in Background as 'Old Timers' Frolic on Alumni Day

Hanover, N. H., June 27.—The capped and gowned Dartmouth seniors were compelled to surrender the time limit and the center of the Commencement Week stage here today to the "Old Grads," for this is Alumni Day, ever one of the gayest and heartiest of Dartmouth's great annual fetes.

The festivities were to begin today with a baseball game between the alumni and the varsity. The alumni meeting this afternoon is to be followed by a meeting of Phi Beta Kappa, the honor fraternity. Reunions of all fraternities and a concert by the Dartmouth Band are also on the afternoon program.

A series of concerts by the Dartmouth Musical Clubs and the band will take place in the evening, while the "Old Grads" will get together and live again their college days at reunions and class dinners.

Formal commencement exercises tomorrow will close the week's excitement. The graduates will form for the exercises at Webster Hall at 9:45 o'clock. A luncheon and session by the graduating class will take place at noon, and the ceremonies will be brought to a close by the annual Commencement Ball in the Alumni Gymnasium in the evening.

ELKS' SHOW BIG AID TO SALLIES' CAMP FUND

The Salvation Army fund for conducting the outdoor camp at Sharon was increased to a considerable extent as a result of the entertainment given by the Newton Lodge of Elks at Norumbega Park.

Much of the success of both events was attributed to Will L. White, baritone of Norumbega, who cooperated successfully with the Salvation Army representatives and the Elks, of which he is a member. Civic officials of Newton were present. Colonel Magee of the Boston headquarters was in attendance.

Boston's Society Juniors Battle at Longwood Courts

Many a Girl of Championship Form Engaged in Lists for State Honors Today

Betty Alden

Photograph by Bachrach

MRS. TALBOT ALDRICH, a smart matron of varied interests, and wide philanthropy, just now watching the Legion Endowment Fund reach its goal. She, with many another, sponsored the recent boxing carnival.

BOSTON'S SOCIETY JUNIORS of the gentler sex who wield a tennis racquet with skill and precision gather today and tomorrow at the Longwood Courts in battle royal for the State championship. The Youngest Set numbers many a girl of championship form, and good sport is promised.

PROBABLY NO THREE GIRLS (sisters, by the way) know greater tennis skill or more promise for future laurels than the younger Palfrey girls, Lee, Dorothy and Sarah, daughters of the John B. Palfreys of Otis street in Roxbury. Their older sister, Miss Polly Palfrey, a bud of the Winter, is likewise immensely clever on the courts.

MISS POLLY PALFREY, in fact, in tennis contests with older and more experienced opponents, women like Mrs. William Endicott, Miss Isabella Mumford, Mrs. Roger Griswold, Miss Marian Fenno, Miss Elizabeth Bright and the Marchesa Ferranti, accorde in holding her own gallantly. Great things are predicted for her.

THERE'S MANY A GAY greeting for Miss Helen Rhodes and Miss Priscilla Rhodes who have just come back to town with their mother after a year or more abroad. I saw them at a wedding recently, looking as chic and vivacious as could be in their be-flowered Summer gowns and shady hats.

BOTH GIRLS BELONG to the Junior League and to the Vincent Club, wherein their clever dancing is much in demand for annual theatricals. Festive days with their smart Young Set coterie were interrupted by their father's death.

FOLLOWING THAT, Mrs. Rhodes and her daughters closed Globe Brookline house and sailed for Cannes, to move leisurely about the Continent and Winter at St. Moritz, from whence came many a word of skill at ice skating shown by the girls.

MRS. RHODES has purchased a home at the Shore, and there the family will be in residence during the Summer. Mrs. Rhodes was Aida Barnes, and there is a son, A. Whitney Rhodes, Harvard, 1921.

PEREGRINATIONS of Mrs. James Cummings Barr of New York and New Ipswich, up in New Hampshire, also of Long Island, included a brief stay in town at the Hotel Touraine to take in a number of weddings and to put in an appearance at that all-important Harvard festivity, the Beck Hall Tea.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN T. PRATT and Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Rose, all Godhamites and Long Islanders, were of the Barr party. John T. Pratt, Jr., was best man at the marriage in Emmanuel Church of Miss Kathleen Rotch and Malcolm Wheten Greenough, and both he and Reginald Rose, Jr., were Beck Hall hosts.

THE BARRS (she was originally a Washingtonian, Lelia Griffith by name, before she became first Mrs. Fairfield and later Mrs. Barr) have a lovely old New England country place in the New Hampshire Hills, called the "Barr Homestead," from which Mrs. Barr dispenses a gay hospitality.

MRS. PRATT and Mrs. Barr both have the political bee buzzing about their heads. Mrs. Pratt is out for aldermanic honors in New York, and Mrs. Barr, following in the footsteps of that other Virginian now known far and wide, Lady Nancy Astor, aspires to high political honors, to the diplomatic service, no less.

THEATRICALS, of amateur backing but of really professional slant take the stage this evening at Cohasset, in the town hall, with the town's dramatic club presenting that clever play by A. A. Milne, "The Dover Road."

MESDAMES HOLLIS T. GLEASON and Arsina Barker, with Howard Power, James Doyle and C. Clifford Gammons have parts, and Ralph Menard plays "Latimer" and also is coach. Mr. Menard is first and Mrs. Oliver H. Howe is second, in command of the club's activities.

THE JAPANESE artist and writer, Yoshio Markino, is in town as the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Warble at No. 42 Mt. Vernon street. Mr. Markino is the author of "A Japanese Artist in London" and while in Boston will paint and write.

FIRST PRIEST IN NEW YORK GIVEN BEATIFICATION

New York, June 22 (A.P.).—Father Isaac Jogues, the first Catholic clergyman to enter the State of New York and discoverer of Lake George, now is one of "the blessed." He was beatified yesterday in St. Peter's, Rome, along with eight other Jesuits who were killed by American Indians in the seventeenth century. Beatification is a stage in the process of elevation to sainthood.

Father Jogues was captured by the Mohawks and taken to their settlement near the present town of Auriesville. He and two companions were subjected to the greatest torture. Finally he escaped and went to France.

However, the church held his devotion and he returned to America. On a mission to cement a peace treaty with the Mohawks Father Jogues was taken captive again and re-submitted to the utmost torture. Finally he was killed. John de la Lande, captured with Father Jogues the second time, was slain a few days later.

A chapel has been built at Auriesville, near the scene of Father Jogues' torture.

CARTOONIST WHO TURNED PRIEST SAYS FIRST MASS

New York, June 22 (A.P.).—The Rev. Joshua Wilson Brady, a convert and formerly a cartoonist, has celebrated his first mass.

Many friends who knew him when he drew the "cross wires" were in the congregation at the Paulist church.

Ordained in St. Paul, Minn., he returned to say his first mass where he was received into the Roman Catholic Church fifteen years ago. He will be stationed in St. Paul.

Father Brady's brother, the Rev. Charles H. Brady, is rector of St. Barnabas Episcopal Church, Denver, and his stepfather, the Rev. Robert W. Rhanes, is rector of an Episcopal church in Kansas City.

WANTS TRAFFIC STANDS MADE ATTRACTIVE

"The canvas-sided stands from which Boston policemen direct traffic are very crude," said Lincoln Collins, an experienced designer of ornamental metal work.

"These stands look cheap. They could make them look much prettier. I think the stand at the corner of Carleton and Beacon streets, Brookline, is all right though," he explained.

"The traffic signal tower at Tremont and Boylston streets is also very crude. I do not approve of the 'scurry box' on the sidewalk, from which an officer operates the signals in the tower. I think some different arrangement should be made."

CHINESE PLAN TO BOYCOTT U. S. GOODS

Ban on Foreign Products Spreads as a 24-Hour Strike Is Urged

London, June 22 (A.P.).—The boycott of foreign goods in China is rapidly increasing and is spreading to various centers of the country, according to information received in official circles here.

Canton agitators are urging that the boycott already applied against British and Japanese goods be extended to American products, it was reported. This Canton group has also proposed a general twenty-four-hour strike as an indication of sympathy with the anti-foreign movement.

Orders Arrest of Chinese "Reds" in Paris Episode

Paris, June 18 (AP)—Minister of the Interior Schramek today gave instructions that all the young Chinese involved in yesterday's affair at the Chinese Legation here be arrested and prosecuted. He declared the French government intended to extirpate all Communist activities, no matter from what quarter they came.

"At the moment our government is engaged in a bitter fight against French Communists," he said, "it is no time for foreigners enjoying France's hospitality to abuse it by intrigue, propaganda and strong-arm work."

About 100 Chinese youths invaded the Legation and forced the Chinese minister to sign various documents, among them one expressing sympathy with the anti-foreign movement in China.

The leader was arrested and police are rounding up all suspects. The leader's lawyers intend pleading extra-territoriality as a defense, claiming the offense, if any, was committed inside the Chinese legation which is Chinese territory under international law.

BOY FALLS 40 FEET FROM CLIFF

Once more a small boy has tested the theory that a fall from the top of McCarthy's Ledge, off Mystic avenue, Somerville, is never fatal.

John Cass, thirteen, of No. 9 Sprague street, Somerville, lost his balance while playing on the ledge and fell forty feet to the bottom. He was taken to the Somerville Hospital, where it was found he had suffered only cuts and bruises.

SENATOR LADD IS DEAD

tor's secretary, who entered the hospital a few minutes after Mrs. Ladd and the children, the Senator failed to recognize.

Senator Ladd, past his 66th year, has been one of the most active members of the Senate and members of his family had feared for some time that the strain upon him would break his strength.

Two sons and four daughters, Culver of Fargo, N. D.; Vernon of Cleveland, O.; Katherine, Ruspah and Rosilla of Wisconsin, and Elizabethe, who had been visiting Vernon in Cleveland were on the way to Baltimore today.

Mrs. Ladd was seriously affected by the Senator's death, and due to this it was planned today to arrange funeral services in Washington, where the body would be interred temporarily in a vault until Mrs. Ladd is able to make the trip to North Dakota. It was expected that the body would be taken to Washington tomorrow.

BORN IN MAINE.

Edwin Fremont Ladd, was born on a farm at Starks, Me., December 13, 1859, the oldest of six children of John and Rosilla Ladd, both of whom were natives of Maine.

He worked his way thr ugh the grade schools of Starks, and then through the Somerset Academy in Athens, Me.

In 1880, Ladd entered the University of Maine, then known as the Maine State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts. He majored in chemistry and after graduation in 1884 went to Troy, N. Y., where he became assistant chief chemist of the New York State experiment station.

STICKS TO CHEMISTRY.

In a short time young Ladd was made chief chemist, which position he held until 1890, when he was called to the North Dakota Agricultural College at Fargo, N. D., as dean of the school of chemistry and pharmacy. This was the first step on the ladder of fame for the Maine man, who was destined to rise to great heights in his adopted state.

Dr. Ladd was appointed North Dakota State chemist in 1902, for the testing of food and foodstuffs offered for sale. Soon after he instituted a pure food campaign, a feature of which was a drive against the bleaching of flour.

This campaign made Ladd extremely popular with the farmers, and eventually landed him in the United States Senate as the representative of the Non-Partisan League.

Dr. Ladd visited various sections of the State, collecting foodstuffs and analyzing them, publishing the results in pamphlet form. He found that the manufacturers frequently were not complying with the law, and as a result of his statements to that effect was made defendant in many suits. The majority, however, failed to go to trial and in those that did the State chemist was sustained by the courts.

HEAD OF COLLEGE.

In 1916, Dr. Ladd, accepted the presidency of the Agricultural College, but continued his efforts as State chemist, and when we entered the war, he was appointed State Food Administrator. His was said to have been largely instrumental in securing for the farmers a basic price of $2.25 for their wheat, after Secretary Hoover and the President had virtually decided on $1.45.

As author of the North Dakota grain grading law, requiring elevator buyers of wheat to pay for all valuable dockage, for which the farmer formerly received nothing, Dr. Ladd attained more popularity.

The Non-Partisan League then marshalled the farmers under its banners, and elopted all of Dr. Ladd's suggestions. It wrested the State from the Republicans, but Dr. Ladd declined office.

The Leaguers carried out their program of State ownership, and finally induced Dr. Ladd to accept the candidacy for the nomination to the United States Senate in 1920.

Dr. Ladd was an ardent Presbyterian and prohibitionist, having devoted much effort to the coming of prohibition. Only twice in thirty years did he find time to visit his native town, where his mother and sister resided on the old homestead.

Ladd's Death New Blow to Republican Insurgents

Washington, June 22 (A.P.).—With the passing of Senator Ladd, the Republican insurgent bloc in the Senate suffers its second overwhelming loss within four days.

By coincidence, the death of the North Dakotan occurred on the day of the burial of Senator La Follette, whose policies he had followed on so many occasions. Together they had gone through the 1924 Independent campaign against the constituted national ticket of their party, and together, they later were read out of the party by the Republican organization of the Senate.

Alligator, Alive, Holds Fort in Factory

Turners Falls, June 22 (A.P.).—The log room at the John Russell cutlery here houses a live alligator today and extra precautions by way of sheet iron on the door have been taken to prevent his escape.

The saurian, slightly over three feet in length, gave employes of the company a surprise on Saturday by crawling from a cocobola log, one of a carload which had arrived from South America, and was being unloaded.

An effort was made to capture the reptile, but he eluded his pursuers and disappeared in the log pile from where he cannot be dislodged until the stock of lumber is depleted.

Logs taken from the room will be gingerly handled for some time, employes of the mill say.

Boston theatres today released an International Newsreel showing Uncle Sam's intrepid cavalrymen in feats of daring horsemanship at Fort Riley, Kan.

For the last two months a Boston photographer, Captain R. W. Sears, more generally known as "Dick" Sears, staff cameraman of the International Newsreel, has been at the Kansas fort filming the activities of the famous cavalry school, providing the first opportunity ever offered the public to see the thrilling stunts.

United States cavalrymen are now internationally recognized to be the most intrepid horsemen in the world.

Their high degree of skill has been further enhanced by the years of training, and the public viewing the International Newsreel is assured of a double thrill—one of amazement at the cavalry capers and the other in the realization that the horsemen are in the service of Uncle Sam.

JOIN A PRESSURE COOKER CLUB

Own a Cooker for Ten Cents a Day

Do you remember the soap clubs that we all used to belong to, and probably many of us still do? This same popular club plan has now been applied to Steam Pressure Cookers—at least to the Packard Steam Pressure Cooker, which you know I am always glad to recommend.

I haven't room to tell you all about it here today, but if you'd like to have one of these modern helpers in your kitchen, drop me a line and I will tell you just how you can join the club.

One-half of your cooking problems these trying Summer days are solved by a Packard. For instance, a great big ham can be boiled in 60 minutes, instead of four hours; a pot roast in 50 minutes instead of two hours; a chicken cooks perfectly in 30 minutes, steamed pudding in 10 minutes, baked beans in 40 minutes, and, best of all, foods can't scorch or burn in a Packard Cooker. They do not shrink nor does the flavor cook away. All the valuable mineral salts are preserved in the foods, too, which they tell us are so necessary.

But perhaps the Steam Pressure Cooker shines most brightly during canning season, and this really is from now until late in the Fall. You can follow the cold pack method, placing the uncooked food in jars and then processing it inside your steam pressure cooker. Think of strawberries, raspberries and huckleberries, all processed inside of 15 minutes! Vegetables, meats and soups can also be cooked in short order with a Packard. You know these Packard cookers can be used over any kind of stoves—and they are especially good at Summer cottages or camps, since you can use them over gas, oil, gasoline, wood, coal or even canned alcohol.

There are aluminum pans that set inside of the cooker, you know, so that you can cook several different kinds of foods at the same time. The pressure prevents the flavors from escaping. The cooker really takes the place of an aluminum roaster, triplicate sauce pans, a boiled dinner kettle and several other pots and pans, which is another saving in addition to time, food and fuel.

It has been estimated that a Pressure Cooker will save the average family of five $1 a month, or $12 a year. Let's be conservative and divide it by ten, and say $1 a year, 7c a month. You know, a bank would only pay you $4 a year on a deposit of $100. Yet here is a cooker that will pay you $6, and the price is nowhere near $100, only $27.50 for the ten-quart size. So if you take $27.50 from your savings account and put it into a cooker it will pay you a higher rate of interest than a savings bank will. Isn't that good figuring?

NATURE'S BEST FOOD

Safeguard Your Baby With Certified Milk

The modern mother is beyond question intelligently devoted to her children. Trained nurses, specialists and earnest study combine in giving her babies a dependable foundation for good health throughout their babyhood, and childhood, yes,—even throughout life.

But why risk this foundation by a haphazard milk supply? Surely the best is none too good for these precious tots and the best in milk means Certified Milk put up under conditions as nearly perfect as it is humanly possible to make them. Such conditions are found at the farms of the H. P. Hood & Sons in Derry, N. H., South Sudbury, Mass., and Beverly, Mass., where Hood's Certified Milk is raised and bottled. These farms are near enough the city so that each day's milking is delivered for your baby the next morning.

Hood's Certified Milk is not pasteurized milk. It is simply clean, fresh, natural milk, unchanged in any way. It comes from tuberculin-tested cows and contains all the growth promoting qualities of milk at its best. Even the cows that produce Hood's Certified Milk are fed on scientifically balanced rations to suit each animal's individual requirements. Every cow is groomed and washed before milking. The milkers are given a physical examination each week, are dressed in white uniforms and their hands and nails are scrubbed thoroughly before the milking. The milk bottles are treated with washing solution, hot water and live steam to make sure that they are clean and sterile before they are filled. Then, packed in ice, they are hurried to the refrigeration room and kept at a temperature of 50 degrees F. until they are forwarded to your baby, covered with ice, fresh and pure every day.

Before you definitely decide on your milk supply for these trying hot days, do seriously consider everything that is at stake and I know that you will agree with me that when it comes to milk, your baby should have the very best that money can buy. Would you like me to send you a little leaflet telling you more about Hood's Certified Milk?

Why Not Make Them Sewing Bees?

Isn't it appalling how many clothes one needs in the Summer time? And they are so expensive to buy ready made in the shops.

I think even the most extravagant shopper feels a few qualms in paying six, eight or ten times more than the actual value of the material used in making Summer frocks.

The answer to the problem seems to be a good sewing machine and a reliable pattern.

Offhand, perhaps, it seems as though you could buy several dresses for the price of a machine of standard make, but I have been looking around and have found a place where you can buy such machines as Singer, Wheeler and Wilsons, White Rotarys, etc., for less than one-fourth of their regular price.

Why not purchase one of these dependable helpers? Screen off a shady corner of your porch for an outdoor sewing room, invest in some of the dainty inexpensive materials and a good pattern and replenish your Summer wardrobe.

The O. C. Bowles Company at 27 Bedford Street, Boston, carry an excellent line of slightly used machines at prices from $22.50 up.

Kitchen Cabinet a Step Saver

Your kitchen is really more exclusively your own room than any other in the house for it is there that you spend many long hours. It should be as comfortable, convenient and inviting as your living room, and it must be an attractive, restful place to work. A kitchen cabinet which has been carefully planned to be a real step and effort saver is almost essential. Such a cabinet is Sellers, which can be bought on a club plan with a year to pay for it in, at Drake & Hersey's, 84 Canal St., Boston, and best of all, if you purchase it this week you will get $14.00 worth of groceries, dishes, etc., free with your cabinet.

This is what the $14.00 worth includes,—a 32-piece Dinner Set, 1 can Cabinet Baking Powder, 1 lb. can Crisco, 1 package Armour's Oats, 1 can Carnation Milk, 1 package Swansdown Cake Flour, 1 can Brer Rabbit Molasses, 1 package Angelus Marshmallows, 1 package Uneeda Biscuits, 1 can Baker's Moist Cocoanut, 1 can Baker's Premium Shredded Cocoanut, 1 box Rinso, 1 bottle Dyanshine shoe polish, 1 bottle of Johnson's Liquid Wax, 1 can of Draino, 1 package of Mueller's Spaghetti, 1 full package of Slade's Cinnamon, 1 package Slade's Mustard, 1 package Bell's Dressing, 1 package Buckeye Washing Powder, 1 bar Murphy's Oil Soap, and one full package of Linit.

I am sure that many members of the WNAC American's Women's Club who have long wanted a kitchen cabinet will agree with me that this is an opportunity not to be overlooked. Drop me a line for further particulars about this offer, which holds good only for this week.

DAINTY SUMMER DESSERTS

Food Value of Gelatine

Almost every week some famous scientist or doctor sends me fresh proof of the value of gelatine. They tell me that it is not only a healthful food, rich in proteid, but, used in desserts, gelatine is also a real aid to the digestion of the rest of the meal, and, of course, we all know gelatine desserts are ideal foods for children and invalids as well as relished by perfectly healthy adults.

However, in order to be really beneficial these desserts must be made of the highest grade of gelatine. Mr. Alfred W. McCann, noted food expert, has recently analyzed the Royal Gelatine Desserts, which have just been put on the market by the makers of Royal Baking Powder, and he says: "Royal Gelatine Desserts are flawless. They are 100 per cent. pure. You can't improve their purity, you can't improve their quality. They are a model for other food manufacturers."

Surely this is high praise from a man who stands as high in his profession as Mr. McCann. But isn't it a comfort to know that when we give our children Royal Gelatine Desserts they are getting the purest, best gelatine that it is possible to buy, flavored with real fruit juice and sweetened with the best of sugar?

Heavy desserts taken on top of a full meal are responsible for many of our ills. Gelatine desserts are light and delicate and don't work the organs of digestion overtime. They offer something dainty with which to top off a good dinner, without overtaxing the body with an overload of waste.

These desserts are made only in four flavors: Orange, Raspberry, Strawberry and Lemon, since pure fruit juices and no synthetic flavorings are used. One nice thing about Royal is that because of the high quality of gelatine used it doesn't need to be made as stiff as some gelatine desserts and yet it is sufficiently firm to mold nicely and hold whatever fruits are added.

And Royal Gelatine Desserts are so simple to prepare. Simply dissolve a package in one cupful of boiling water. Cool it with a cup of ice water and it is instantly ready for the ice box.

Would you like to know how to make fruit salad with these Royal Gelatines—jellied meats, etc.? I will be glad to send you a little booklet that will tell you more about this new dainty dessert help. You'll enjoy it, I'm sure.

Assert U. S. Women Are Hard-Hearted

Madamoiselle Marceline D'Alroy, famous writer and lecturer, and author of "You Said It, Marceline," appearing at Keith's this week, writes a series of intimate articles on beauty, clothes and women for the Boston Evening American. Her story today is on "Women and Dress."

Mlle. D'Alroy is one of the most prominent Frenchwomen to visit our shores. Her psychology of men and women, her witty and humorous observations in snapshot sayings, are the most widely read in the country.

By MARCELINE D'ALROY.

American women are so beautiful, they have such glorious bodies, wonderfully slender and so easily to clothe, but—

You women are such hard-hearted Hannahs with the men. Your lithe figures rebel in decorous vehemence to do homage to the male. But what is the good of your expensive clothes if not to please?

I love American women, they are so clever. They are so smart, you know. They are so queenly, so stately. But you make me shudder with your cold indifference to the warmness of affectionate men. Men like to please women, but women like to bend men.

Women like dress accordingly. Restles women attract the men, but the quiet ones get them. Vivacious women have the spontaniety so dear to men, but quiet ones have grace and charm which the restless ones should possess. And it's a touch of charming feminine allure which attracts men.

Mlle. Marceline D'Alroy, who writes a series of intimate articles on beauty, clothes and women for the Boston Evening American.

ADORES U. S. WOMEN.

"I adore American women. They are the best-dressed women in the world. They have such costly gowns and they all dress in such exquisiteness alike. One can't tell the smart dowager, from the shop girl, or the office stenographer from the debutante. It is marvelous this transformation which American clothes makes on women. Your prices are so moderate for clothes and every woman should take advantage of it.

"Most of your women are charming but so many lack it and if women realized the value of such a virtue school for developing charm would spring up over night. A woman with charm is so tolerant of others, she listens so patiently to the advice of others, but most American women assert independence. Thehy wish to subdue the men. French women adore them.

"By adoring them, worshipping them, no catering to their needs as only a wõman can, we supply them with the idealistic opinion of womankind and we are appreciated. Talk to a Frenchman and he says he needs us. But most American men are eager to say that they could get along without them. And the women are to blame, of course.

THE SOFT CARESS.

"A soft caress means more than a brilliant command. An eye, twinkling in acquiescent submission is more effective than supercilious eyebrows knitted into a frown and command.

French women want to be conquered, but American women want to be conquerors. And it affects the mind of women, this domineering, haughty, commanding air of womanly autocracy. One can't be charming, full of grace and beautiful with such astere coldness.

Beauty is a state of mind. If you believe the attitude then that's all there is to it. Think you are beautiful, do everything to make yourself beuatiful develop charm, wear becoming clothes and the secret is yours.

TELEGRAM TO BOSTON WOMAN BELIEVED HOAX

Police Fail to Trace Sender of Message Telling of Husband's Injuries

Mrs. Laura Leroy, employed in a restaurant in South Market street, and whose home is in Roxbury, is much mystified today over a telegram she received stating that her husband was in a bad auto crash at Hartford, Ct.

"This is to inform you that Ernest Leroy was badly crushed about the body by my car this morning, Saturday, on Chapel avenue, Hartford, Ct. He is now at my hospital and resting more at ease. Will inform you again if anything is very bad," the telegram read. It was signed Dr. Cushing and was sent from the Western Union office on Massachusetts avenue near Boylston street.

The Boston and Hartford police have been unable to locate a Cushing hospital, and the Hub authorities are inclined to regard the message as a hoax.

SMALL FIRE DRIVES OUT ALLSTON FAMILIES

Three families went hastily from their beds to the street today when a fire caused $300 damage in the home of Alton Winkley, Weitz street, Allston.

PARENTS OF 7 BABIES SAVED FROM JAIL

Friends Raise $2,000 Bail for Man and Wife, Guilty of Making Vodka

Salem, June 22.—The father and mother of seven small children were saved from jail today by a number of men who came forward with $2,000 bail for them.

Alexander and Jarina Bojcick were arrested Saturday at their farm in Middleton. A still was seized. It was over a well and adjoining a pigpen. The police also seized six barrels of vodka.

In court today the police asked for clemency, in view of the circumstances. Fines of $200 were imposed, and the two were on their way to jail when the bail money was rushed to the clerk of courts.

22 ARE KILLED OVER WEEK-END IN RESORTS

New York, June 22 (A.P.).—Twenty-two deaths by accident and violence were the week-end result in New York and New Jersey. Reports from other Eastern States are expected to swell the total.

Drownings took nine lives, six are dead as a result of automobile accidents, three were killed in shooting and stabbing affrays, one man is believed to have been poisoned, two were killed in falls and an aged woman was burned to death in a tenement fire. The list of seriously injured ran into scores.

The violent electrical and wind storm which lashed the Atlantic coast yesterday cost three lives.

One man was killed when his automobile plunged into a tree uprooted by the wind at Smithstown, L. I., another was swept from the bow of a boat by a wave in the Hudson and drowned, and the third died at a beach resort of heart failure induced by running for cover when the storm broke.

Byrne May Be Next Irish Cardinal

London, June 22 (Universal).—The Most Rev. Edward J. Byrne, Archbishop of Dublin, will be the next Irish cardinal, according to the belief of leading Catholics here.

Strong influences are believed to be at work in Rome in favor of Archbishop Mannix, but his political views are expected to deprive him of the red hat. Archbishop O'Donnell, coadjutor to the late Cardinal Logue, and acting primate, is in his 75th year, and the Vatican thinks he may soon go on the retired list.

Archbishop Byrne is only fifty-four and is the moderate, intellectual type of church dignitary favored in Rome.

NEW RAIL TRUNK LINE TO WEST PROJECTED

Loree Tells I. C. C. of Plans Made by Harriman; Puts Cost at $574,000 Mile

Washington, June 22 (A.P.).—L. F. Loree, president of the Delaware and Hudson Railroad, outlined today before the Interstate Commerce Commission a plan for a complete new trunk line railroad system between New York and Chicago, of which the New York, Pittsburgh and Chicago railroad through Pennsylvania would be an essential part.

The testimony was given in explanation of the application of the New York, Pittsburgh and Chicago, a non-operating corporation owned by the estate of E. H. Harriman, for permission to build across Pennsylvania.

Besides disclosing the existence of an important new transcontinental railroad project, it revealed competitive contests between the greater Eastern trunk lines over the territory.

Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio, was present, and the New York Central and Pennsylvania systems were represented.

Mr. Loree told a story which had its beginning in the latter part of the nineteenth century, when men now dead were striving to link up New York city with the West.

Mr. Loree said it might be possible to expect that "the cost of the line would be around $574,000 per mile."

The RED LACQUER CASE

by PATRICIA WENTWORTH

A Thrilling Novel of Love and Adventure, Mystery and Intrigue that Every-One Will Want to Read

(Photo by Charles Snyder)

Sally sees the marked hand at the window while her uncle reveals the secret of the red lacquer case.

Sally, posed by Louise Groody and Lasalle, by Charles Winninger of the "No, No, Nanette" company.

CHAPTER I.

THE front door of Sally Meredith's cottage opened straight into the living room. There were a red brick floor, very clean, a much worn Persian rug, and a big open fireplace. Of the two large chairs one contained M. Frederic Lasalle, Sally's uncle.

Sally thought him altered. But, after all, seven years were seven years, and those between 1914 and 1921 might well count for double.

Sally was sitting on the floor in front of the fire, her lap full of papers which she was sorting.

She unfolded a yellow paper and read the endorsement. "'My honored grandmother's recipe for making black currant jelly. Very economical.' I'll keep that," she said.

Lasalle picked it up and began to read: "Take nine pounds of black currants and nine scant pints of water"—there he stopped and then said:

"Two years you were with her? Why do I not find you married?"

Sally's color rose a little.

"Alas, Fritzi, we are both bachelors," she said.

M. Lasalle snorted.

"When last we met," he said, "you were happily and suitably betrothed. To me also it was a happiness. I thought Youth is headstrong, but now all will be well.' Always you were a trouble to my mind.

"If I were the uncle who does not care, I would shrug my shoulders and say:

"'It is a pity of my niece Sally Meredith. She was betrothed to a fine young man—oh, some years ago now, before the war; and she obstinates herself to be a suffragette, and to break windows with a hammer, and in public places to cry aloud "Votes for Women." Sequel, she is arrested, she is in Bow Street police court—what will you have? The betrothal is broken—what does it matter to me? It is a pity, that is all.' He is alive?"

"Yes, he came through the war all right."

"Do you see him, hear from him?"

"Oh, no."

"Let's talk about you for a change," said Sally. "You know you're ever so much nicer and more interesting than me. What have you been inventing?"

M. Lasalle sat down without speaking. He picked up the jelly recipe, folding and refolding it in an odd, absent-minded manner.

"There are two of me, Sally," Lasalle began. "There is the old uncle whom you call Fritzi, kind and peaceable, a good citizen of his Switzerland, a man to be envied, a man, as you say—comfortable. Then there is the other—he who is Lasalle, chemist, inventor, man of science pure and simple. Up to now he, too, has been happy, as one is happy when he does the work which he loves beyond all the world. I say up to now, for now there has come upon this other me, this one who is Lasalle the man of science—"

"Fritzi, what is it?" said Sally.

"I am telling you, but you must stay still. You asked me of my work. Have I invented, have I discovered? And I say, 'Yes, I have.'"

He gave a sort of groan.

"It was a gas that I have found, like nothing else, swift, sudden, and deadly beyond what words can describe. Then when the discovery is complete, and I have made my experiments, I think, 'What to do?' I come out of that work dream so absorbing, and I begin to reason. 'My own country, Switzerland, she is neutral for ever. Thank God she needs no poison gases.' After my own country I think of England. With all my heart I love her, and with all my heart I believe that she loves peace. I think to myself, 'England shall have this secret.' And I write to your War Office.

"All that takes time. We write backwards and forwards, we have conversations. And you will understand I am not yet troubled. Then something happens; there come to me in three separate ways offers from other nations. Easy 'No' to them. I will not correspond and will not talk. I say they are misinformed. They do not take my answer. First in small ways, and then in big, I am pressed. I cannot describe it; but I begin to feel 'What have I here? What forces are stirring? And can I resist them?'"

His voice sank to a whisper.

"After that there began the spying. I came to think there were no honest people left. I will tell you of one. He was a refugee from Poland, a youth, violinist by profession, and he came to me with an introduction from one whose name I will not say, because it is a name much honored.

BOSTON, MONDAY, JUNE 22, 1925

'DIVORCE MILL' JURY IS COMPLETED

Penniless Man, 70, Says State Hospital Ousted Him

FIND HIM SLEEPING IN WOOD

Police Investigate Story He Was Turned Out of the Tewksbury Institution

Lawrence, June 22.—John Shaw, seven years old, who related a pitiful story to the Lawrence police yesterday of being turned out of a State institution Thursday without a cent or a friend or relative and of nights spent in the woods because of lack of funds to procure shelter, awaits today the decision of the city officials regarding his case.

About 7:30 o'clock Sunday morning, a report was sent to headquarters that a man was sleeping on the ground in a grove near the Lawrence Canoe Club on the Merrimack River.

Upon investigation officers found the man to be Shaw, who was released from the Tewksbury State Hospital last Thursday.

According to the story told by Shaw, he was turned out of the institution without a cent of money.

He has no friends or relatives and had been obliged to sleep in the woods. Shaw was at one time a resident of Fall River.

When questioned regarding the future, the elderly man said he knew nothing that he could do and that he was willing to abide by any decision of the court and city authorities.

SHEPHERD WILL FACE GRILL IN LIFE FIGHT

Chicago, June 22 (I.N.S.).—Mrs. Luella Rheubell, the witness on whom the defense had counted to show that William D. Shepherd never had been a visitor at the National University of Sciences of his confederate, Fred C. Falman, admitted that Shepherd's counsel paid her $20 a week.

She admitted under a gruelling fire of cross-examination by State's Attorney Robert Crowe that she had been arrested for disorderly conduct.

Chicago, June 22 (I.N.S.).—The trial of William D. Shepherd for the alleged murder of William Nelson McClintock, his foster son, wound its way toward it final chapters today as the defence neared its present its closing witnesses, including Shepherd himself.

Decision to call Shepherd was reached today after a long conference of his counsel, following which Attorney William S. Stewart declared they believed, in justice to Shepherd, he should be given a chance to tell his own story to the jury.

"If this were an ordinary case," Stewart said, "we would not dignify the State's case by calling Shepherd, but we feel that in the present circumstances it is due both the defendant, the jury and the public."

State's Attorney Crowe indicated a severe cross-examination was in store for Shepherd, asserting he would have to give an account of himself from the cradle to the day he was arrested.

Other witnesses today were Miss Lilla Ruebel, formerly an employe at the National University of Sciences, were Shepherd, according to the confession of Charles C. Falman, his co-defendant, obtained typhoid Germs with which he is said to have onnoculated young McClintock.

She was called in an effort to show that Shepherd never visited the school and never applied for a course in bacteriology there.

Dr. Charles E. M. Fischer was to give expert testimony regarding the life of typhus cultures to bolster up the defence contention that germs handled as Falman declares those he says he gave Shepherd were would be impotent.

Grafters Hold Up Kissing Law Violators

Bristol Va., June 22.—The highway department today is planning to investigate Bristol's "kissing graft."

Following the arrest of a girl and a boy, both of prominent families, it has been learned that scores of couples, including a number of married persons, have paid as high as $65 to "free frisking officers," who caught them "petting" in automobiles.

A kiss, witnessed by persons other than the principals, is a crime in Virginia.

14 RUM CHASERS COME TO FIGHT N. E. FLEET

Coincident with the scheduled arrival of President Coolidge and his official family at "White Court," Swampscott, Wednesday, the greatest drive ever undertaken by United States forces against rum-runners is under way in Massachusetts Bay.

Although Federal officials insist there is no connection between the impending arrival of the President and the vigorous offensive against the rum fleet anchored off the Massachusetts coast, it became known today that it was the desire of the President that the New England coast be made as dry as possible.

Fourteen government rum chasers are already in Boston Harbor to augment the "Dry" fleet which operates offf the Massachusetts coast.

These boats were ordered from the Jersey coast, where the government has been conducting a drive against the rum fleet in that section.

In addition to the augmented fleet of rum boat chasers it was learned today that a seaplane and several additional destroyers have been ordered to Boston to assist in the suppression of the liquor fleet.

Several captains of vessels which arrived in Boston within the last ten days have reported to the harbor officials that they have had narrow escapes from running down power boats at anchor or speeding along without lights. Presumably these crafts were engaged in liquor-running.

Two weeks ago the assemblage of a new rum armada between Cape Ann and outer Boston Harbor was reported by customs scouts, and at the same time came the announcement that the number of carriers in Smugglers' Row, 22 miles off the coast, had been increased to 12, most of them from Lunenburg.

BOY KILLED PLAYING WITH STOLEN REVOLVER

Providence, R. I., June 22 (A.P.)—Shot through the forehead by a bullet from a .32-calibre revolver being examined by a group of his playmates, Charles J. Bishop, eleven years old, died within an hour at a hospital here.

Because of the noise of an airplane flying over the vicinity at the time the shot was not heard, but a woman who saw the boy fall summoned police and an ambulance. The other boys ran away.

The police say the revolver was stolen from the room of a boarder by one of the boys.

7 BLOW UP FORT, DIE AS RIFF CAPTURE LOOMS

Paris, June 22 (A.P.).—A dispatch to the Intransigeant from Fez, French Morocco, says Second Lieutenant Lapeyre, with six Senegalese soldiers, the only survivors of his original garrison of twenty-two men, blew up his blockhouse on the Franco-Moroccan front on June 14 rather than be taken alive or surrender to the besieging Riffians.

He held the post eight days against the tribesmen, but his two cannon had finally been silenced. He had repeatedly asked for help, but no rescue party had arrived and the enemy was closing in. The lieutenant flashed a final report by heliograph and then touched off the powder magazine.

DENY GUILT IN DIVORCE MILL CASE

Horton and Dougherty Face Charges of Forgery, Perjury, False Swearing

Providence, June 22 (A.P.)—Leonard W. Horton, master in chancery, and Francis P. Dougherty, his law partner, came before the Superior Court here today for trial before a jury on charges arising out of the so-called "divorce mill" investigation carried out by Attorney-General Charles P. Sisson.

Horton was named in twenty-one indictments and Dougherty in nine, handed down by the Providence County grand jury after evidence compiled from a hundred divorce cases had been laid before it. The cases involved for the most part persons from New York State.

The indictments included charges of forgery, subornation to perjury, and false certification of an officer. Both pleaded not guilty.

The jury was completed before noon and prosecution and defence prepared to go forward with the case. Attorney-General Sisson indicated that the case would centre largely around a joint conspiracy charge involving a deposition signed by George E. Rands.

E. George Rands, an employe in the office of Horton and Dougherty, has been held in $10,000 as a material witness.

After instructions from Judge Jerome Hahn, court was recessed.

LIFEGUARD DROWNS IN SPRINGFIELD POND

Springfield, June 22.—The police today were investigating the mysterious drowning in Loon pond of Omer R. Desautels, 20, lifeguard, whose body was found in twenty feet of water under one of the diving rafts.

Young Desautels, who was on duty at the pond yesterday, failed to return home last night, and today his father, Charles H. Desautels of No. 103 Magazine street, found the young man's car parked near the pond, and his clothing in the lifeguard's room. The police after half an hour's dragging, recovered the body.

POLICE GRILL PARENTS IN BOY SHOOTING MYSTERY

The parents of fifteen-year-old Michael J. Dunn of East Cambridge were to be again questioned today by the police in connection with the mysterious shooting of their son, who is now at the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary.

Following the removal of his wounded right eye to save his left, the boy was questioned by Patrolman Trant of the Cambridge police.

The officer reported that the boy informed him his father told him not to say a word about the affair.

OLD IRONSIDE'S WEEK TO BE HELD NEXT FALL

James R. Nicholson of this city, past grand exalted ruler of the Elks, has been selected to direct the Elks' drive through the schoolchildren of the nation to raise $500,000 for the restoration of "Old Ironsides," now rotting at her pier in the Charlestown Navy Yard. Mr. Nicholson, with 900,000 members of the Elks, will carry the story of this famous fighting ship into every schoolroom in the country during the week of October 12, which has been designated as "Old Ironsides" week.

THAW'S MOTHER BADLY HURT BY FALL AT CHURCH

Pittsburgh, June 22 (A.P.).—Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw, mother of Harry K. Thaw, lies painfully injured in a hospital here today. She fell on the steps of the Third Presbyterian Church, where she attended services yesterday.

Mrs. Thaw walks with a cane and she apparently tripped over it as she was going down the steps.

TEDDY GLYNN, JR., REMEMBERS DAD

Fathers' Day meant something to Fire Commissioner Glynn, for his young hopeful, Teddy, Jr., presented him a book which may have been a history of Boston's mayoralty candidates. But whatever it was, it immensely pleased the directing genius of Boston's excellent fire department. Picture above shows the auspicious occasion.

SLAYER CHEATS NOOSE, DIES OF STABBING

Chicago, June 22 (A.P.).—Bernard Grant, fearful of the hangman's noose in spite of the efforts of thousands of persons throughout the country who had signed petitions urging clemency of Governor Small, refused today to permit physicians to perform an operation in the hope of saving his life, and died thirty minutes later.

He was stabbed five times Saturday by Walter Krauser, once sentenced with Grant to hang, but later granted a new trial, while the two were in prison here.

Grant was very weak from the wounds in his neck and chest and physicians at the House of Correction hospital insisted on a blood transfusion.

"I'll be dead in a little while if you'll let me alone," said the wounded prisoner, "so why prolong my life when it's going to be taken from me anyway?"

Dr. Frank Jirka pleaded, but Grant's resistance did not weaken.

Grabit, who insisted he was innocent and that Krauser alone was guilty of killing Policeman Ralph Sanders in a holdup in 1922, probably would have been pardoned or his sentence commuted if a new trial granted Krauser had freed him.

NEW ENGLAND TYPOS MEET AT FALL RIVER

Fall River, June 22 (A.P.)—Members of the New England Typographical Union opened its tenth annual convention today. Mayor Edmond P. Talbot welcomed the delegates at the beginning of the business session.

President James M. Lynch of the International Typographical Union will be one of the speakers at the banquet tonight. Officers will be elected at the concluding session Tuesday.

Named by Pope

Rome, June 22 (A.P.)—Pope Pius has appointed Rev. Francis Reyes as Bishop of Cáceres, Philippine Islands.

AMUNDSEN IS WARNED NOT TO FLY BACK

Oslo, June 22.—Roald Amundsen wants to fly back from King's Bay to Norway, but his friends will try to persuade him not to take the chance. The airplanes in which the explorer and his party flew to the polar ice have arrived at King's Bay and are being overhauled.

After the severest strain the explorer and his ship have been under, his friends believe it would be a needless risk for him to attempt the flight back.

Amundsen probably will not return to Norway before July 1. While mechanics are going over the surviving airplane of the two in which Amundsen, Lieutenant Lincoln Ellsworth of Ohio and their four companions started the flight, Amundsen is busy writing his account of the polar air voyage.

Amundsen Proved Plane Can Reach Pole, Expert Avers

Copenhagen, June 22 (A.P.)—Knud Rasmussen, the Danish Arctic explorer, commenting upon the Amundsen-Ellsworth attempt to reach the North Pole by air, said that from a scientific standpoint it is of no consequence that Amundsen did not actually reach the pole.

"Having been so close to the pole," M. Rasmussen said, Amundsen has proved that the time has come to use airplanes in Polar research. The fact that he left Spitzbergen in an airplane and returned from near the pole the same way is the point of real importance.

"There is every reason to believe that his long sojourn at one place near the pole made it possible for him to make a series of observations."

MAILMEN TO SEEK REFORMS

To Demand Abolition of 'Weighing System' at State Convention

Twelve delegates, representing the Boston Postal Clerks' Union at the annual convention of the Massachusetts Federation of Postal Clerks at Springfield, June 27 and 28, will conduct an active campaign for postal reforms, it was announced after a meeting of the executive board of the convention committee.

The convention is expected to be the largest in the history of the State, more than 1,600 delegates having been authorized to attend.

The Boston delegation will propose measures for the betterment of the clerks and the postal service generally, which have been under consideration for some months.

REFORM MEASURES.

These measures will include:

Liberalized retirement legislation; a 44-hour week; time differential for night workers; a court of appeals; strict seniority rules; increased special clerks allotment and a "final" merit of efficiency system applicable to all clerks.

Special consideration will be given by the delegates to the so-called "efficiency rating" or "mail weighing" system.

The postal clerks claim that this method is out of date. Under the system, each weighing clerk is required to put out a designated poundage of mail daily. It is charged that this system is bad, because it puts a premium on speed, rather than on efficiency.

TO BAR TIME DEVICES.

Steps will be taken at the convention to initiate legislation in the 69th Congress prohibiting the use of any time-measuring, or weighing scheme or any other similar device seeking to measure the amount of mail distributed by a postal employe.

THIRD BASE JINX MAY COST GIANTS PENNANT

HOT CORNER POISON FOR M'GRAWS

Groh, Linstrom, Frisch and Farrell Victims of Famous Jinx This Year

By NICK FLATLEY.

Old Man Hard Luck is camping so steadily on the trail of the champion New York Giants that it begins to look as if the chronic leaders of the National League were in for a beating. After five years of continuous success, the Jinx may give the Pittsburgh Pirates or some other outfit a shot at the glory of the pinnacle.

The trouble is parking at third base principally, a spot that has been poison for McGraw's team down through the year. This Spring, right at the start, Heinie Groh's legs went wrong and he had to be chased to the doctors. The props aren't right yet, though the bottle bat chap has to get into the game now and then.

Nick Flatley

The team was well fortified, apparently, with young Lindstrom, World Series sensation last Fall. Gus, in fact, threatened to beat Heinie out of a job. But the season wasn't a week old before the boy wonder wrenched his knee so badly that he hasn't been right since.

McGraw, kept up in the race by what he thought ample reserve strength, had to go to the colleges, and came up with a young man from Penn, Farrell. He was slapped into the picture the day he reported and played third base. And he was promptly spiked in the arm by a sliding runner. It didn't kill the young man, but it mussed him up so much that he is now waiting for the bandages to come off.

FRANKIE FRISCH, one of the greatest individuals in the national pastime, was a third baseman with the Giants until it was feared that he would commit suicide sticking his chin into hot smashes. He was moved over to second, but this Spring smashed a finger, sliding, and will be out for weeks yet. The third base jinx was still pursuing him. Latest thing to happen to the club was due to a slippery bathtub. Pitcher Virgil Barnes skidded out of one, or into one, and sprained his ankle.

Virgil was suspended for breaking training immediately thereafter, but this should not be construed to mean that Manager McGraw does not want his expensive athletes to take baths. In fact, from the things he calls the boys at times, one might suspect that many baths would be most helpful. But the suspension, and possibility that Virgil may have been aiming a bit widely at his bathtub, will not help the twisted ankle.

THE giants' third base troubles stretch back into the dim past. That one spot has cost McGraw millions, though he won pennants by spending them. He had Charlie Herzog there, let him go, then had to buy him back. He did the same thing with Heinie Groh. Both young men were costly bric-a-brac when they came back as stars, and their salaries were of the movie variety.

The ill-fated Heinie Zimm broke an arm while he was a Giant third baser. Later on he was accused of fooling with the gamblers, found guilty, and fired right off the hot corner into the outer world. Heinie said he didn't do it, but his argument didn't help McGraw to cover up the bag.

TILLIE SHAFER came up to play third base for the New York club with a great reputation. He was a mighty good ball player, and a very debonair and handsome youth. Some imaginative scribe announced to the world that Tillie wore a scented kerchief in the pants pocket of his baseball uny, that he received more mash notes than a matinee idol. From that time on Tillie was a marked man.

He played ball because he liked to. He had plenty of money, and when the razzing and the notes began to make life a real burden he rambled nonchalantly off the picture, leaving McGraw once more flat on his back, so to speak, in the matter of a third baseman.

LINDSTROM, who is just old enough to vote, will recover shortly from his wounds, and continue to be a star. But if he's superstitious as most ball players are, thoughts of the past are quite likely to hamper his style. The Giants, who had a runaway lead a month ago, are now being pressed closely by the Pirates, with the Cincy Reds rushing toward the top. If a few more third basemen get knocked off the New York list, the team will be lucky if it doesn't skid down close toward the second division.

* * *

McGRAW has plenty of money, and lines up every good athlete he hears about. But he can't go on buying them forever. And, in a close race, untried youngsters, regardless of their ability, cannot stand up under the pressure. Manager John has been sick all Spring, but is about to come back to the open air and the bench. He'll probably have a relapse every time he sees a cloud of dust around third base and one of his fragile athletes tangled up with some sliding runner.

BRAVES RETURN TO THE TEPEE TOMORROW

Manager Dave Bancroft, fully recovered from his injured finger and back in the Braves lineup, is hustling back from St. Louis with the Tribe to open a four-day stay at the Wigwam tomorrow. The Tribe have won the last two baseball games with Manager Bancroft back in the running and the Warriors are sure to show plenty of class before long.

The Phillies will be the attraction out at Braves Field tomorrow in a twin bill, which is the opening of bargain week for the fans of this section.

John Cooney and Kyle Graham, opposing the Phillies in the double-header, is a possibility. Although there is only one game on Wednesday, the Tribe will hook up in another double-header with the Phillies on Thursday and a single game on Friday.

Friday, as usual, is ladies' day and the fair queens can click through the turnstile free of charge.

More than likely our friend and neighbor, Ike Kamp of Roxbury, who has been in Boston with a poison foot for the last week or so, will be given a chance to show his wares against the invaders. The Braves will also introduce to the local baseball lovers a new infielder in Abbie Kibble, who is stationed on the keystone hassock.

The Braves' first Western invasion, which promised to prove disastrous, finished encouragingly when Dave Bancroft's tail enders interrupted the wonning streak of the Cardinals by taking the last two games of the series.

Hennessey Wins in Tennis Battle

Wimbledon, Eng., June 22 (A.P.).—John Hennessey of Indianapolis defeated Vanderfeen, the Dutch star, 6—3, 4—6, 6—4, 6—2, in the first important match of the Wimbledon tennis championships which opened today.

Hennessey had little difficulty in disposing of Vanderfeen, although he lost the second set largely through experimenting with his drives. The Indiana youth's service, except at the end of the match, was not working to the best advantage, while his forehand was weak in spots. Hennessey was also weak with his returns from the base line, but his backhand strokes were well handled.

Rev. W. H. Maitken defeated P. R. Rhurditch, an American student at Oxford, 6—3, 6—4, 6—0.

Jim Barnes' Card at Troon is 77

Troon, Scotland, June 22 (A.P.).—Jim Barnes, New York professional, returned a card of 77 today in the first qualifying round of the British open golf championship. His was among the twenty lowest cards. Eighty will qualify for the finals on Thursday and Friday.

Barnes' card was:

Out	4	4	4	5	4	4	4	3	5—37
In	5	4	3	5	4	4	6	4	5—40—77

Barnes' card represented rather erratic golf, especially in his drives. His recoveries generally were excellent, however. And his putting on the slick greens was consistently good.

Only an ordinary round tomorrow should enable the Pelham professional to qualify.

MacDonald Smith, regarded by many as the favorite for the British title this year, went out in 36. He was not using his irons well, but on four greens between the fourth and ninth holes he needed only one putt for each.

Joe Kirkwood brought in a card of 79.

SOX CONCLUDE HOME STAY TODAY

By NICK FLATLEY.

The Red Sox close up Fenway Park this afternoon after concluding their interesting and highly exciting series with the Detroit Tigers. Though the Fohls have lost the two games played to the Cobb firebrands, the meeting has been the most exciting and satisfactory staged in a Boston park this year. The Sox, in the cellar, are fighting everybody, and showing a lot of real baseball in spots. And the Tigers, anxious to get up toward the top, where they think they belong, are overlooking no bets to win ball games.

Ty Cobb had a fearful and horrible start for his campaign, but his team has now recovered and is gradually battering its way toward the roof. Ty's pitching isn't anything to brag about, but the club has enough socking power to make up for much poor chucking.

Manager Ty is confident now that he has a real pitcher for his ball club in Owen Carroll of Holy Cross, the college boy who drew the year's biggest gang to the ball yard Saturday. Owen was hit in that pastime, but all things considered, did a remarkably fine job. Had he been given the support a youngster might expect in the large show, he would have won very handily.

He showed the one thing that managers want in kids—control. He had one little fit of flutters, but that was natural. Most of the time he was getting the ball over the saucer. The fact that he made some of them too good was due to inexperience more than anything else.

Mister Carroll stumbled into most of his trouble with two out. Which was to be expected. In the best college circles, the pitcher can ease up with a couple gone. The assault naturally fades by that time. In the big show, it's different. Owen knows that now, and will profit thereby.

Cobb, Fohl, the umpires, in fact, everybody had a boost for young Owen, who looked like a natural born ball player in a situation that might well have caused him heart failure.

The Sox haven't done any too well on this home stand, but the team has been improving steadily, and is a much better outfit just now than the early playing inclined one to foresee. After the next road trip, the Fohls should be able to hold their own with anything the league sends along.

AMERICAN NINE AFTER COMPLETE SCHEDULE

The Boston American baseball nine are looking for games away from home with fast amateur and semi-pro teams. The line-up of this team include Oscar Fleischer, the old Revere A. A. pitcher; Joe O'Donnell, Eddie Dondero, Tony Pella and other good men. Any team desiring to book this attraction should get in touch with Boston American Reference Department, Baseball Manager. Twilight and Sunday games preferred.

Can You Beat It?

New York, June 22 (A.P.).—Police have been instructed to put a crimp on the activities of a thin-faced fat man on Coogan's bluff who for days has been quenching the thirst of baseball fans by serving highballs from a miniature bar strapped around his waist.

Fans hit a bee line for him before and after the games at the Polo Grounds.

His harness is like a cartridge belt, only the cartridges are cylinders of highballs. The price is 25 cents a drink and some customers have been knocked out by one shot.

TWILIGHT STARS - - No. 1

The Boston Evening American begins today the publication of a series of cartoons of some of the outstanding players in the Twilight League. Today's, drawn by Charlie Schmidt, is of Hal Janvrin, now with the Checker outfit. Hal joined the Red Sox after leaving the Boston schools, and is a sweet ball player. Twi fans should watch this series. A cartoon of their favorite player is apt to bob up most any day.

TAD'S TIDBITS

QUICK, WATSON, THE MOTH BALLS!

Some one should take Johnny Dundee and put him away in the attic with the moth balls. He's out of style, out of luck and moth-eaten.

He was a grand little boxer in his prime, but today he is far away from himself. He has lost decisions repeatedly of late.

Crowds cheer him now because they think that each bout is his last. They like his pluck and they like him, but sooner or later he's going to get the razz so hard that it will break his heart.

Some friend should take him by the arm now, while he's conscious, and steer him up to the old attic, where the antiques and the out-of-style things are, and put him away as a relic.

GET IT RIGHT

Mr. G. Hawkins writes in to ask us if it wasn't Fitzsimmons who refused to shake hands with Jim Corbett when that pair met on the road before their bout at Carson City. He adds that he saw a story to that effect in some paper a while back. Mr. Hawkins may have read that story, but the writer of it had the cart before the horse. It was entirely wrong.

The facts are as follows:

We take it from Jim Corbett's own story in "The Roar of the Crowd." He wrote:

"We slackened our pace, hardly moving at all, and just as we reached the arena Fitzsimmons and his crew breezed alongside.

"He came up and clapped me on the shoulder, saying 'Hello, Jim,' cheerfully enough.

"Sometimes, as I tell this story, many years after the event, I have to smile and almost feel like apologizing for my unchivalrous treatment of Bob that day when all the time in heart I respected him as a great fighter. However, there was nothing really so personal in it all—just the old strategy which I have found as effective as many punches. So when he put out his hand I refused it, growling out curtly: 'I'll shake hands with you when I meet you in the ring next Wednesday.'

"Then, as he looked at me in amazement and stammered and stuttered, I jerked my shoulder toward the huge dog he had with him and added:

"'You'd better bring that fellow along with you, too. You'll need him!'

"At that he turned and walked off, quite embarrassed.

"I turned to the Judge and Delaney.

"'Come on, I've found out what I wanted,' I told them.

"'That fellow doesn't think he can lick me.'"

Stenroos to Find Fast Track

Mayor Quinn and other city officials of Cambridge, proud of the fact that the first and probably only New England appearance of Alhein Stenroos, Olympic marathon winner, will be in the University City at the St. Alphonsus games on Russell Field, June 27, are sparing no expense to put the track in the best possible condition to give the Finn a chance to break the world's record for fifteen miles. If Stenroos doesn't shatter the world mark, it will not be due to the condition of the track.

The Boston Elevated is preparing to handle the immense crowds expected at the meet. Special cars and trains will be provided. Abundant parking space for automobiles has been provided also.

World of Difference

In such a way does Nettle voice her "ambition." In such a way do most of us voice our "ambition." But this isn't ambition at all. It isn't even first cousin to ambition. It's the rankly desire [illegible] DISCONTENT which undermines ambition.

LAWRENCE MAN IS KEEN FOR POLICY

Former Mayor William P. White of Lawrence not only took out a Boston Evening American $7,500 accident policy, but he is so convinced of their value he is urging his friends to do likewise. "There should be a Boston Evening American policy in every workingman's home," Mr. White says.

William P. White of Lawrence Urges American Policy on Friends

Lawrence, June 22.—"The greatest protection ever placed within the reach of the people of Massachusetts."

This brief comment was made today by Ex-Mayor William P. White as he endorsed the Boston Evening American's travel-accident policy.

"The Boston Evening American has continued its policy of placing opportunities before the people and this is the greatest thing that I have seen yet," White continued. "It places insurance within reach of everyone. I would like to see a policy in every home in Massachusetts."

White named over several other insurance policies which he holds, the costs of most of them far above a figure which a working man with a family could afford to pay.

"It is too good a thing to keep to one's self," he said. "I have explained the policy to over a hundred of my personal friends, most of them of the working classes, and most of them already have their insurance; the rest will get their policies at an early date."

"I have heard a lot of my friends talk about 'taking a chance on insurance'—and in many cases I know that they do," White said. "But the only chance that anyone can take with the Boston Evening American's policy is neglecting to benefit by its protection."

Clothes Make Impression

And the First May Mean Success

Look at this picture for a moment and ask yourself whether fine clothing, well fitting, well made, in style, makes any difference.

Here are two men in overalls. Do you recognize the one on the right? He is not an apprentice, timidly starting out to learn his trade. This young person is H. R. H. the Prince of Wales, wearing overalls, for an hour or two, while inspecting the engine room of the warship on which he traveled to South Africa.

It doesn't much matter what the PRINCE wears. Everybody around him KNOWS he is the Prince. He can look very grand in any one of half a dozen military uniforms, or he can put on the overalls, which make his small body look smaller than usual, go down to the engine room and be LOOKED UP TO by all hands.

But suppose this young gentleman were simply "John Jones," ont looking for a job. What chance would he have in this costume? NOT MUCH.

Good clothes don't MAKE THE MAN. But they DO MAKE THE IMPRESSION, and success depends largely on the IMPRESSION that you make.

Dress quietly, neatly and WELL. It's a help to success.

The Fleet's New Commander

President Selects Admiral Robison for Highest Command Afloat

President Coolidge has gone to the fleet-in-being, instead of to a desk ashore, to find his new commander-in-chief for the United States Fleet.

Probably it was not easy for the Man in the White House to choose between two such excellent officers as Admiral Wiley and Admiral S. S. Robison. Both have served with distinction afloat and ashore. Both are well-known from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Both have hosts of friends throughout the six New England States, each having served a tour of duty as commandant of the First Naval District which includes command of the Boston Navy Yard.

Best of all both of these distinguished Admirals have to their credit an excellent record of service in the United States Fleet, for whose command both were well qualified.

Especially to be commended is the refusal of the President to go outside of the fleet to select its new commander-in-chief. Let us hope that the precedent here established will in time become a tradition in the Navy that will hereafter govern the succession to the Navy's highest command.

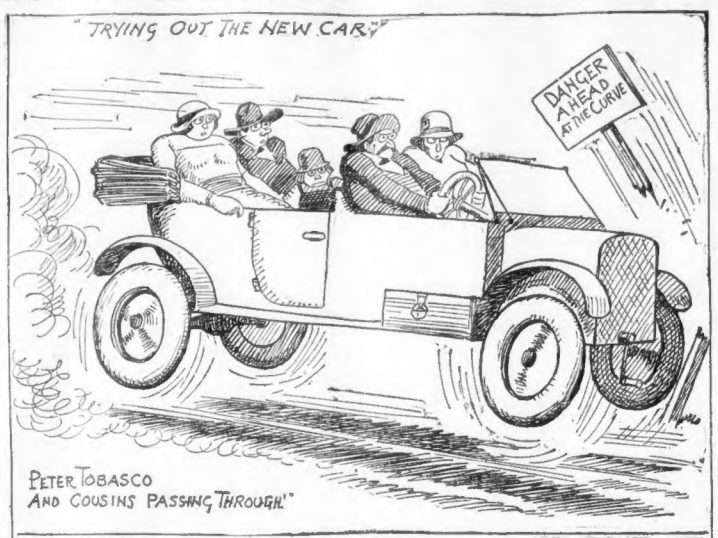

To Admiral Robison in due season, we doubt not, will go the felicitations of His Excellency the Governor of Massachusetts and His Honor the Mayor of Boston in the name of the State and the City where the new commander-in-chief is held in such high esteem. And the other New England Governors may well join in these felicitations.

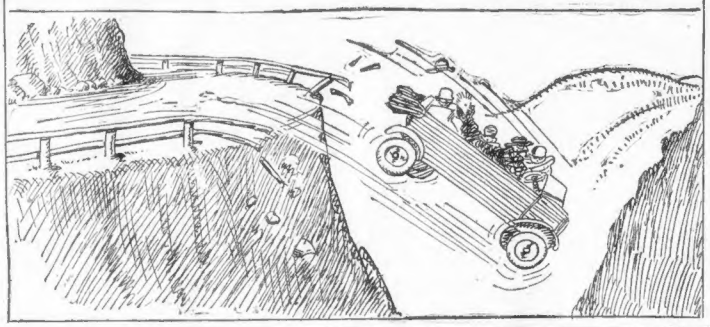

For the people of New England, in extending their best wishes to the Fleet's new commander, will not forget that he is the son-in-law of the late Admiral Clark, who commanded the Oregon throughout the War with Spain. The noble traditions that were personified by this well-beloved hero of the Navy are dear to the heart of the Fleet's new commander. Nor could he find a better exemplar of all that is best in the Navy than the record of service that is indissolubly linked with the name and fame of Clark of the Oregon. It is a heritage of which the American people and their Navy are justly proud.

How Not to Grow Old -:- -:- By T. E. Powers

A WIFE'S MEDITATIONS

By Helen Rowland

"PETTING," like denatured coffee, synthetic beer, or any other "substitute," may be "harmless"; but, alas, it carries no kick!

* * *

This is the time of year, when the hearts, the heads and the loves of mortals are lightest!

Helen Rowland

A woman feels that she is "misunderstood," when she has been taken lightly in a love-affair, a man feels that he is "misunderstood," when he has been taken seriously.

* * *

It is not when lips meet and hands touch, that love springs to life—but when thoughts meet and spirit touches spirit, in that flash of perfect understanding so rare, so fleeting, and so unforgettable!

* * *

When it comes to an argument with a trolley-car, a fire-engine, or a jealous woman, the fact that you were "in the right" is no great satisfaction—at the inquest.

* * *

No matter how frankly a girl may assure him of her indifference, a man always feels that there is a "private entrance" to her heart, somewhere, if he could only find it.

* * *

What with golf, fish-stories, and inventing alibis for his motorcar and fairy tales for his wife, the average man's imagination is kept going on all six cylinders and becoming more brilliant every day.

* * *

The saddest sight on earth is that of a woman whose brain has stopped growing, while her tongue has kept right on developing.

* * *

Every man "rocks the boat" of happiness at least once, during a love-affair—usually by trying to leap out of it before it lands in the port of Matrimony.

* * *

Petting is the penny-ante game of love in which there is nothing to lose, nothing to win, and nothing exciting, except for very "cheap sports."

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Aline Michaelis.

OH, white is the foam on the wave's green crest, and whiter the mermaids' arms, and purple the weed on the sea's calm breast when it sleeps for a time after storms. I sing aloud in my brimming bliss as I plunge in the strange, sweet sea, and I welcome the waters' sudden kiss when the waves close over me. I would seek a pearl in the deeps below, like a star in the sky's blue bowl; from the stains of Earth with its work and its woe I would cleanse my sullied soul. As I find my pearl in the shining deeps where Earth's care and its tumult cease, where the seaweed floats at the bliss sea-sleepe, with the kiss of the waves comes peace!

ONCE-OVERS

THE MAN WHO CAN MAKE THE RIGHT SORT OF FRIENDS OFTEN HAS THE ADVANTAGE IN BUSINESS

It is not a new subject, but it is an ever-present subject—that of another man advanced over the man in regular line for promotion.

If this has happened to you don't blame it altogether upon "pulls" which you think so-and-so has.

Be honest and perhaps you can see where the man who got the job is really superior to you in his ability to fill it.

If you feel that he is not justified in promotion in comparison with yourself then seek another job.

You are not up to the standard the firm desires, so get out.

But there is another way to get around the situation and that is to try first to improve your standard.

It may be that because of influential friends the man who got ahead of you in your present place won out.

It may not be that these influential friends interceded for him, but that the fact that he could make and keep influential friends marked that man as one to be reckoned with in expanding a business.

What looks to you like pull is not that at all, but may be the ability to select and gain the respect of the right sort of friends.

TIME IS WASTED IN PURSUING THE DAWN

By DR. FRANK CRANE

A MAN could start and follow the dawn westward. After it had gone he could run fast hoping to catch it again. But he will save time and trouble if he will just stand still. Within twenty-four hours the dawn would come back to him.

Much pleasure that we chase we could get much more quickly by standing still and waiting till it comes back.

There are misguided youths who leave school in order to make money. It is commendable to want to earn your own living and get off other people's backs. It is a consummation devoutly to be wished by everyone. But it can be done too soon. It is better to get all possible preparation before we do it.

Those who quit school in their 'teens because somebody makes them or circumstances compel them are indeed unfortunate. Those who quit because they want to are just plain fools.

There is such a thing as chasing fame unduly. Fame should be the shadow of what we are. The darkness of the shadow depends upon the solidity of the person. If we seek fame directly and follow after it, it is like a man chasing his shadow. But if we stand still and attend to our own business fame comes at the proper time.

There are those who seek popularity when it would be better to devote all one's energies to being worth something, and popularity would come of itself.

A saying of Emerson's is that if a man makes a better rat trap than anybody else, the world will find the path to his door.

Lincoln's advice to one seeking the presidency was that he should devote all his energies to making himself worthy to be President. Whether he would be chosen President or not was largely a matter of luck and circumstance.

In religion there are many people who seek its advantages by seeking direct experience. They go to the mourners' bench or to mass searching for that joy that is only the reflection of deeds well done. The efforts of religion are not to be had directly, but indirectly. We are to devote our energies to thinking, speaking and doing what is right. When we have done this there comes a glow of self-satisfaction that can only come from deeds well done. This is the best kind of religious experience.

Those who are chasing health directly are sitting on the front porch of sanitariums. The real healthy people are those out in the playground and in the street who never give a thought to their physical condition. The dawn comes to them.

In the same way there is a good deal of bunk about the various systems of mental training. Those who go in for training their minds usually become one-sided. Those who are busy working their minds at some valuable task get their training indirectly.

BLOW STRIKES BASIS OF EINSTEIN THEORY

By Garrett P. Serviss

Noted Astronomer and Writer on Scientific Topics of Popular Interest.

THE Einstein pot is boiling again. A powerful blow has been struck against the basis of the relativity theory by Prof. D. C. Miller of the Case School of Applied Science at Cleveland.

This basis—the famous "Michelson-Morley experiment"—has always seemed of questionable validity to many, and the results of Prof. Miller's challenge will be awaited with intense interest, for, notwithstanding its abstract nature, the Einstein speculation has had an enormous popular "success."

Of course that is not saying that it has been popularly accepted on scientific grounds, but only that it has been treated as a kind of Arabian Nights entertainment in mathematical physics.

Its chief English exponent, Prof. Eddington, was well advised when he drew upon "Alice in Wonderland" for suggestive illustrations. But some persons thought that "Alice's" story was as well authenticated as Einstein's.

What Michelson and Morley believed that they had demonstrated by their experiment with a split light ray sent in two directions at right angles to each other, and returned to the parting point, was that there was no evidence of any motion of the earth relative to the ether of space.

Starting Point

Einstein seized on this and made it the starting point of his revolutionary theory. As I have said, there were from the beginning some who questioned the conclusiveness of the experiment.

Professor Miller determined to put the matter to a new test. He went to Mount Wilson, the great outpost of aggressive and progressive astronomic science.

He made 5000 observations, and by their means discovered, in direct opposition to the Michelson-Morley result, a positive shift of the interference lines of light, showing that there is a measurable motion of the earth due to its rotation on its axis, its revolution around the sun, and its flight with the sun through space.

In reporting the result of his observations to the National Academy of Sciences on April 28, he showed that his experiments indicated a general motion of the earth with reference to the ether amounting to six miles per second.

The speed of the earth in its orbit about the sun is 18½ miles per second; in its voyage with the sun about 12 miles per second. The displacement of the lines varies with the pointing of the apparatus as respects the direction of the observer's motion at different times of the day and of the year.

Much as the experiment of Michelson and Morley was conducted at Cleveland, not very far above sea level, while Mount Wilson has an elevation of 5,900 feet, it would seem that the ether is dragged along with the earth so completely near sea level that no relative motion is perceived, but that the motion becomes evident at higher elevations.

Re-establishes Ether

This tends to re-establish the ether in scientific standing, and will be welcome news to Sir Oliver Lodge.

How the Einsteinians will meet the new situation remains to be seen; but they have never been lacking in ingenuity or boldness of assumption.

They are able to call upon a species of mathematics which openly proclaims its independence of the control of physical facts. Nevertheless, they show great eagerness to obtain a few crumbs of solid fact to enable their theory to rest its weary legs, and much satisfaction seems to have been felt by the supporters of Einstein at the meeting where Professor Miller announced his upsetting results over the simultaneous reception of a report from Doctor Adams at Mount Wilson that he had found a shift of the spectral lines in the dense companion of Sirius agreeing with Einstein's calculations on that subject, and from Chicago that Doctor Michelson had made an experiment with light in a long exhausted pipe which confirmed his former results. But it will be observed that this, like the previous experiment, was performed near sea level.

The opponents of the Einstein theory have always maintained that all of the observed phenomena which seemed to confirm the theory were receptive and capable of explanation along Newtonian lines, and now that the foundation itself of the theory has been upheaved, they will probably increase their activity.
